

The Con Edison Micromobility Make-Ready Program Participating Contractors List of contractors and financial institutions is provided as an informational source only. It contains the names and contact information of providers who have contacted Con Edison and represented themselves as qualified to perform services. Con Edison has not independently verified the qualifications of any participating provider. Inclusion on the Participating Contractors List is not an endorsement, promotion, recommendation, or approval, either express or implied. Con Edison makes no representations about the experience, qualifications or reliability of any provider nor the quality or outcomes of their services. Customers are responsible for investigating the technical capabilities, financial reliability, and professional reputation of any provider, checking appropriate references, and confirming that a provider is duly licensed and in good standing in New York, prior to entering into any agreement with a provider. Selection of any provider is entirely voluntary and made without any promise, guarantee, or assurance of performance. This list is not intended to be all-inclusive.
